

Descent Into Darkness

Miss Netherlands 2023
Winner (male) vs the runner-up (female)

The picture above is from Amir Tsarfati's Telegram channel. If you can believe it, the gal on the right finished as runner-up to the person on the left, a transgender male. Descent into Darkness! Our western cultures have gone insane!!

More Descent into Darkness. Also from Amir's Telegram channel:

Excited about electric cars? You think you're saving the planet by driving them? According to Amnesty International The Democratic Republic of Congo has the world's largest reserves of cobalt, a mineral crucial to the global energy transition. Some 40,000 children are still reported to be working in mines in particularly perilous conditions, particularly in Kolwezi.

Years ago, in the seventies, I remember the issue of abortion coming up quite a bit. The infamous decision by the Supreme Court known as Roe v. Wade had been issued in 1973, which legalized a woman's right to choose whether or not to abort a pregnancy, that is, to end the human life carried in her womb. I didn't quite understand why the big fuss about abortion, because it was just another method of birth control, right? (Please remember, that was 50 years ago, and I was barely past my teenage years!)

As time went by, I became more aware of the issues involved and came to realize that the focus should be on the life of the child, not the whims or even painful decision of the mother. I gradually realized that it shouldn't be regarded merely as a human decision. Actually, abortion should be unthinkable (with some exceptions, possibly) as a violation of God's moral law and the His principle of the sanctity of human life.

Thankfully, a year ago the Supreme Court returned the issue to the states to decide on their own. No, despite the disinformation of the mainstream media, the Court didn't ban abortion. It removed it from the purview of the federal government, as is proper.

We might think this issue is behind us, but think again. It still is a hot issue between the political Right and Left. It remains an issue of morality, reverence for human life, and obedience to God.

Much more recently, over the last few years, I have repeated my slow realization of another disastrous and critical issue, one that is not unrelated to abortion.

Maybe you have heard more and more references to "human trafficking" and how we must become more involved in apprehending and severely punishing the traffickers. I have heard of this more and more, but like before, I've been relatively indifferent, not truly understanding (or caring to find out) what is involved. I had an image of runaway teens and unfortunate young women being forced into unwanted sex for hire, but the issue didn't grip me.

That is, not until "The Sound of Freedom" movie. No, I have not yet seen it, but I surely will when it becomes available via internet streaming or DVD. I have spent quite a bit of time listening to interviews of the man, Tim Ballard, whose mission to save children is the subject of the film. And also interviews of the guy who is Tim in the movie, Jim Caviezel (Jesus, in Who Passion of the Christ).

Now I get it. The spiritual darkness that has been spreading across our nation like the shadow of dusk creeps across the landscape has consumed and normalized abortion so that a large percentage of women believe it's their right to decide life or death for the infant they carry. Now that dark spirit is consuming innocent young children as young as five and into the teens, mostly to feed the appetites of pedophiles. These are the victims, as well as older young people, of human sex trafficking.

Our open border with Mexico is also quite involved with this issue as many of the children who are called "unaccompanied minors" really have been stolen or are tragic byproducts of the horrible mess of people surging across our border. The kids are sitting ducks for the traffickers who then sell them for sex or other unspeakable purposes. There are even "farms" where young girls are impregnated just to make babies that can be sold.

From a website I never heard of before now, Frontline News, came this quote from Tim Ballard himself. He's speaking of what he has learned about the pedophile network and their agenda:

"I called them, 'The pedophile network doctrines,'" he said. "They include things like: separate children from parents because parents are a bad influence, the state knows best; sexualize kids, let them see pornography; take God out of education because that just gets into the way; consent, consent, consent — children can consent to anything. At 12 years old they should be able to vote, they should be able to do anything."

Ballard said that the very agenda he risked his life to fight is now being pushed into mainstream culture by Leftism.

"Now, what am I saying here? My stomach is getting sick as I'm reading this, I read this every day — it's the Woke Left agenda. I'm not saying they're colluding or talking, it doesn't matter, it's the same dark source. But pedophiles are sitting back right now saying, 'We've been pushing this agenda for decades and now we don't have to push anymore because the Left is taking care of it for us in America.'"

Essential to that agenda is gender disorientation, which is being forced on children in the form of indoctrination and even genital mutilation.

You and I MUST see this movie. We must let ourselves be awakened (not WOKE, for Pete's sake) to the evil darkness engulfing our culture, so that we turn to God for His Light of Truth, for His protection, and for His salvation from this mess!

"The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness. (Matthew 6:22-23)

Our eyes, whether the media for the culture, or our closed eyes personally, have been filled with darkness. You can't change the media, but you can choose alternative media that have sound eyes. And for sure you can open your

LVEDA on Monday, July 31, at 5PM, at the Moose Lodge

This is our regular announcement of the monthly LVEDA meeting (Lucerne Valley Economic Development Association), but this time, it's extremely significant!

In attendance, and reporting about their areas of responsibility will be:

California Assemblyman

Tom Lackey

S.B. County Supervisor

own eyes to what's going on, filling your spirit with God's Light. He'll tell you what to do about these issues.

Jesus cared about children! The perpetrators of child sex trafficking will have a special place in Hell reserved for them:

"At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, 'Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?' And calling to him a child, he put him in the midst of them and said, 'Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.' 'Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.' (Matthew 18:1-6)

Let us also care as He did, and let us do what we can in the battle against the darkness!

On The Lighter Side . . . from the Web

When I say "the other day" I could be referring to any time between yesterday and 15 years ago.

I burn about 2000 calories every time I put on fitted sheets by myself.

Elementary kids have iPhones. When I was a kid, I put glue on my hands just so I could peel it off when it dried.

I've reached that age where my brain goes from "you probably shouldn't say that" to "what the heck, let's see what happens."

My super-power is holding onto junk for years and throwing it away a week before I need it.

Do you ever feel like your body's "check engine" light has been on and you're still driving it like "nah, it'll be fine"?

Contrary to popular belief, duct tape is NOT a solution to every problem.
