

September 11 and True Joy!

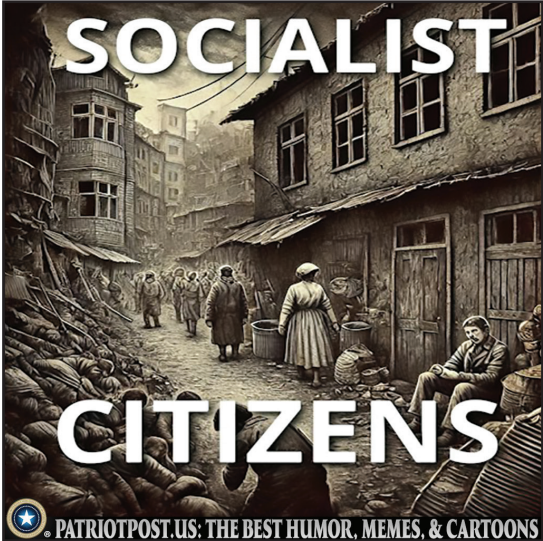

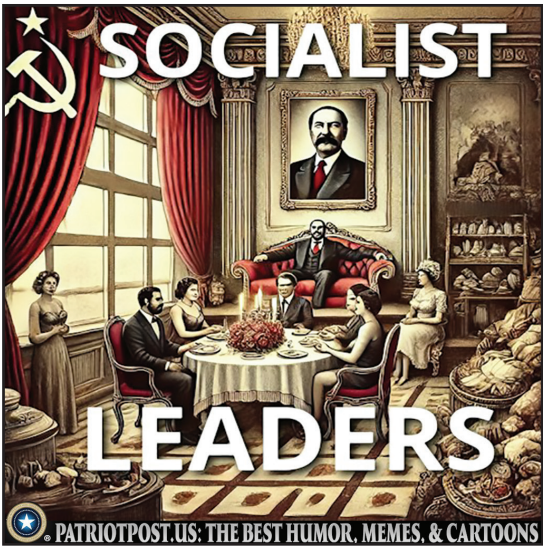

Next Wednesday is September 11, a day we remember for the horrific attack on the World Trade Center in which almost 3000 people perished, including first responders who heroically gave their lives to save others. Briefly we came together as a nation in the spirit of outrage and cooperation, led by George W. Bush and Rudi Giuliani, both of whom went fearlessly to Ground Zero to mourn and to honor the heroes. We were not conservatives or liberals, Republicans or Democrats. We were AMERICANS. Young men and women flocked to the military to fight for their country, and to exact revenge on the perps who inflicted such injury on us. Unfortunately, our time of unity lasted as long as it took for governments to address the issues of security and the threat posed by the terrorists and other bad actors among us. They used the opportunity to create legislation that wove a broad net that supposedly filtered out the bad guys, but also monitors us regular people, many of whom they now label as terrorists (YOU AND ME!), as they allow thousands, even millions, of unvetted young men into our country, which we know includes many real murderous terrorists! What happened in the 13 years since then? Has not our nation taken a seriously dark turn? Leaders on the Right (aka Republicans) have done little to resist the take over by leaders on the Left who have been co-opted by radically evil authoritarians. Our political leaders, whom WE elected, have allowed this to happen. Shame on us! As we remember that Satan's principle weapons include lies, deception, confusion and violence, let us face this coming election with open eyes and minds. Yes, those on the Right are weak and often ineffective. But those on the Left are pure evil, advocating baby murder, child molestation and mutilation, wide open borders that are allowing people in who don't share our American values, and so much more. Ben Shapiro, an incredibly sharp guy on the Right, wrote an article that appeared in the Patriot Post of 8/21/24, "Kamala Harris' Authoritarian Joy". Responding to the deceptive image of the Harris and Tim Walz campaign as joyous, Shapiro writes: Now, for most Americans, this simply is not a time of joy. Not a single poll shows more than 35% believing that the country is moving in the right direction. Two thirds of Americans think America is on the wrong track. Meanwhile, the supposed candidate of joy has the approval of approximately 46% of Americans; almost 50% are unfavorable on her. Three years of extraordinary inflation means that everyday items now cost at least 20% more than they did in 2021. Uncertainty and chaos span the globe, from Ukraine to Taiwan to the Middle East. Americans no longer know whether they can safely say that a man is different than a woman, while simultaneously being informed that it is deeply important that they elect a woman president. But ... joy. Authoritarians demand emotional fealty, not merely political fealty. . . authoritarianism papers over its totalitarian policies with the soothing platitudes of paternalism and maternalism, and demands that you sacrifice the true joys in life – family, church, community – in favor of a Big Brother. Or, in the case of Kamala Harris, a Big Mother. Just feel the joy. And stop asking questions. The only true joy comes from knowing God and living in obedience to Him. He then gives us the Holy Spirit of Truth, Who gives us eyes to see, so that we recognize the lies and deception that are pushed on us daily, from many directions. This is a dangerous and painful time, as I'm sure you know. So give your life to God if you haven't already, put on the whole armour of God (Ephesians 6:10-20), and live in His true joy!
